

Sunken City Coffee is the bridge between the coffee farm, La Voz, and a meaningful non-profit, ODIM.

From a land dotted with mountains and volcanoes, lakes and streams, sprouts a heritage unlike any other. That of the Mayan people, and their love for the coffee that stems from their roots. This is a culture that celebrates the harvest season, that blesses the beans they put their hearts and souls into cultivating, and is willing to share the beautiful experience of their coffee made in the traditional Mayan fashion with a lucky few Coloradans.
